Manufacturers name Daniels 'Man of the Year'

The Manufacturers Association of Florida named Lad Daniels of Jacksonville as the "Man of the Year" for his leadership of the First Coast Manufacturers Association and work on behalf of manufacturers statewide. "Lad has been a tremendous asset to our association," said Nancy Stephens, executive director of the Manufacturers Association of Florida. She cited Daniels for his successful fund-raising for manufacturing projects and his service as the state organization's government relations chairman, which involved lobbying lawmakers regarding manufacturing issues. In a separate award, the state association gave its president's award to the First Coast Manufacturers Association for its ability to build relationships with government leaders and "overall political savvy." The First Coast Manufacturers Association is a non-profit trade association. (Printed without permission from the Times Union)

Junior Branch News

Hey Jacksonville Branch! Wow, what a great year we have had in CISV! We have been very busy this past fall and have an even busier spring up ahead. We started off the fall with our southern regional mini camp, hosted by Atlanta. Our theme was censorship. We delved in to the topic with activities that made us think about how precious our freedom to say what we think really is and how even in America that freedom is being threatened. It was great for the different chapters of the south to come together in one setting and share our thoughts and ideas together. We were really able to come together as a region and learn from each other. Also this fall we have had two coffeehouses. Coffeehouses are a great place to talk about more serious topics in a smaller, more relaxed setting. One coffeehouse we watched the movie Pay it Forward which has a great message of spreading kindness and favors beyond just those who are kind to you first. Another great activity we did this fall was at the corn maize. We learned about the problems with hunger in the world through a fun game in the maize. We also had every participant bring a can of food to donate. It was a great success and we gathered lots of cans! Our most recent activity was our third annual Holiday Party. All CISV members including adults day season. It was great to all be together and learn of our different customs and celebrations for the holidays. Now that the year is ending we have the spring to look forward to! The junior minicamp so put that on your calendars for Feb 12-14! But before the minicamp don't forget about our Martin Luther King day activity on Jan 18! Also coming up in the spring we will have our first ever International party! So many new things are upcoming to add on to an already exciting Fall so you don't want to miss out. The most important part to a successful chapter is participation from the members. It is up to each and every one of you to make Jacksonville a fun and growing chapter and the more participation at each activity just makes us more excited to plan the next one! Hope you have a great New Year and see you in 2010!

Peace and Love, and parents were invited. At the holiday party we shared holiday dances, traditions, and yummy food. The party was a great start to the holi-board will soon begin planning for our upcoming winter minicamp. The theme is Superheroes! It will definitely be an exciting

National Board Meeting 2009

By Murphy Williams

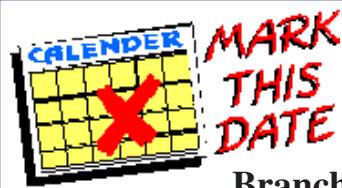

The national board meeting is held in Cincinnati, Ohio annually. This year we JB'ers sent 4 representatives (Katie Stewart, Brooke Robinson, Marie-Claire Levy, and Murphy Williams) accompanied by Stephanie Donelan. The meeting lasted 4 days and was a lot of fun.

The girls learned about many new ideas for the local JB and can't wait to share them with everyone! In between coffee and hot chocolate all day and all night, the JB'ers were typically in meetings with other representatives from all over the United States sharing ideas and collaborating on tactics.

Marie-Claire Levy was elected to the National Youth Meeting Committee (NYMC) and Murphy Williams elected to the National Youth Committee (NYC). So we hope everyone will sign up to go to NYM this coming year, which will be held in Cincinnati.

Garage Sale Update..... by Amy Crane

Our first-ever CISV Smokin' Hot "Give Peace A Chance" Garage Sale was a success! Held at the Law Offices of Suzanne Bass at the corner of Emerson and Hendricks, the event raised nearly $1,000. A great group of volunteers participated and made the day fun.

The event logistics were made easy and efficient through the generous support of the Women's Help Center. Many thanks to Roy Hatten, the Center's Executive Director, for believing in the value of CISV's peaceful mission, and supporting it through use of their building.

Holiday Party 2009 By: Marie-Claire

Jacksonville had its 3rd annual holiday party the night of December 11th. This year's theme was the Festival of Lights and what different cultures do during the holidays. After everyone arrived, we sat down to a delicious potluck and watched Israeli and German dances. Then everyone split up into groups to go to stations. The stations included: Diwali, Hanukkah (it was the first night too!), Share your own holiday tradition, Gingerbread house-making, and holiday-themed Charades. When it all finished, we chatted some more and enjoyed the rest of the evening. The JB also came up with it's theme for the minicamp in February: Captain Planet and other superheroes! It's another great event to look forward too.

South Regional Minicamp!

From September 25 through the 27, members of the Jacksonville JB traveled to Atlanta for the annual South Regional Minicamp. We had some difficulties finding our way to the campsite, but arrived that Friday night to lots of hugs. "Welcome to the Jungle" was the fun theme of the camp, with the more serious idea of censorship behind it. We did lots of name games and energizers, along with group activities about the ability to speak your mind. Although it rained a tad, we still got to have an awesome dance party at the end. Jacksonville had the largest number of delegates at the camp, and we also had a meeting to make some important decisions. We decided that this year's shakedown money would go towards Kiva, to help entrepreneurs across the globe start their businesses. It was all over too soon with a long car ride home to face, but we can't wait until next year!
